Brookfield & Elm Grove THIS MONTH OCTOBER 2019

OCTOBER 2019

From Olives to Oil celebrates 1-year anniversary

Brookfield store owner follows passion for olive oils

BROOKFIELD — With a decade of experience under her belt, Lori Hass opened From Olives to Oil, which celebrated its one-year anniversary in September in Brookfield.

The shop offers "try before you buy" olive oils and balsamic vinegars, which have many applications.

"People seeking are healthier options for their cooking and diets in general. Our products fit the bill, offering lower-calorie and lower-fat alternatives for almost any dish or bakery. Plus, with more than 40 flavors of olive oils and balsamics, everyone can find something they like," Hass

The Brookfield store at 17125C W. Bluemound Road celebrated its one-year anniversary on Sept. 21.

"The local community has warmly welcomed From Olives to Oil, and we are thrilled to celebrate a wonderfully successful first year with our customers and business supporters," Hass, a Brookfield resident, said. "We have received tremendous positive feedback, which guided us to expand our selections of oils, balsamics and foods. We strive to offer products not typically available in other stores, and instruction on using them to enjoy a more flavorful life."

Most of the products sold at From Olives to Oil, balsamic vinegars, EVOOs and nut oils, are from a fourthgeneration producer in Lazzio, Italy. The store carries many locally-produced food and health products, as

From Olives to Oil occupies space that formerly housed The Oilerie Brookbusiness during its entire 10year run, finishing as manager. Betsy Belongia, another longtime employee who has authored dozens of recipes using EVOOs and balsamic vinegars, continues to serve customers at From Olives to Oil.

From Olives to Oil has field. Hass worked at the From Olives to Oil owner Lori Hass, right, assists customer Janelle Kreidler at the Brookfield more than 40 tasting tanks. making the experience personal for her customers.

with our customers, which passionate about good cook- ents and flavors to use.

Hass says she focuses on when they want to know mind when people call with how our products can be questions, for example - we "Being a small store, we of doing so," she said. educated, and comfortable enjoy personal interaction "Everyone on our team is with putting new ingredi-is especially important ing and great food. We don't used, and the health benefits want our customers to be

INSIDE

State to fund more prosecutors

Page 1B

Appraiser judges antiques at fair

Page 3B

Movie theater food fight leads to charges

By Brandon Anderegg banderegg@conleynet.com 262-513-2657

WAUKESHA — A popcornand-beverage fight at the Majestic Cinema in the Town of Brookfield turned into criminal charges for one at the theater on July 9 when grabbed nearby drinks and allegedly who woman attacked another woman while appearing in municipal court for citations issued in connection with the inci-

Yolanda M. Cruz, 38, was alleged popcorn thrower, for disorderly conduct.

charged with obstructing an "Are you really throwing officer, two counts of misde- popcorn at me, you fat (explemeanor battery, resisting an tive)?" according to the comofficer and disorderly con-plaint. duct, according to a Waukesha County Circuit Court both the popcorn thrower criminal complaint.

she was allegedly hit by popcorn because she pulled out her cellphone to look at the tified as Saraya Harris, time, according to the com- according to the complaint. plaint. Cruz allegedly turned

Following the comment, and Cruz threw their drinks Cruz was watching a movie at each other. Cruz then poured them on the popcorn thrower, who was later iden-

Cruz and Harris were around and said to the issued municipal citations complaint.

Both Cruz and Harris courtroom attempted to appeared in court Sept. 19 and as Cruz left her attornesses observed approach Harris, grab her by the hair and pull her to the floor, according to the complaint. Cruz allegedly struck Harris in the face with a closed fist and an officer reported hearing a loud thud each time Cruz struck Harris in the face, according to the Another witness in the intervene, and Cruz allegedly struck him in the forehead ney's office, multiple wit- during the altercation. An Cruz officer then jumped over chairs to reach Cruz before putting her in handcuffs.

As Cruz was being handcuffed, she yelled something to the effect of "Harris got what she deserved," according to the complaint. Another officer noticed clumps of hair on the courtroom floor as well as blood in Harris'

Area men part of first ESPN game

Sports 4B

ABCD: After Breast Cancer Diagnosis provides free emotional support to anyone impacted by breast cancer – patients, families and friends. We'll match you with someone who shares similar life experiences, someone to talk to, someone who's been through it.

We're here when you need us. 414.977.1780

abcdbreastcancersupport.org | All services are free.

(f)

OPEN HOUSE BRUNCH

Sunday, October 13 11:30 am - 2 pm

Patriots Hall, 3215 N. Brookfield Rd.

RSVP at brookfieldacademy.org/Open-House

Saturday, November 2

Scholarship Testing and Admission Screening for the 2020-21 school year – by appointment

OCTOBER 2019

LIFE

SECTION B

More than 60 new prosecutor positions added throughout state

Equivalent of 2.5 positions added in Waukesha County

By Brandon Anderegg banderegg@conleynet.com 262-513-2657

WAUKESHA — More than 60 new assistant district attorney positions will be added to 56 counties across Wisconsin, Governor Tony Evers announced Sept. 17.

Evers touted the measure as the largest state investment in the district attorney program in Wisconsin's history. For the first time in 10 years, money drawn from the General Purpose Fund will be used to fund full-time positions added to the program, Evers said at a press conference held outside the Waukesha County Courthouse.

The 64.95 positions added throughout the state were based on requests made by county district attorneys, according to a press release. A total of 2.5 positions were added to Waukesha County.

Evers said district attorneys are on the front-line of the criminal justice system, adding that critical changes needed to reform the criminal justice system cannot be made if county district attorney offices are overworked and understaffed.

"For far too long our county district attorney offices have been doing more with less," Evers said. "This historic investment will enable our county officials to improve victim services, enhance diversion and treatment options for those struggling with substance use disorders and address backlogs that are standing in the way of justice."

Evers was joined at the press conference by State Rep. Robyn Vining, D-Wauwatosa, The Women's Center Executive Director Angela Mancuso and Waukesha County Assistant District Attorney Mike Thurston.

"It's a big day for criminal justice reform," Thurston said. "Today the governor's office put the finishing touches on a criminal justice reform bill that is apolitical, that was widely supported by both parties and that addresses so many of our local ciation, said Wisconsin district long haul."

Brandon Anderegg/Freeman Staff

Governor Tony Evers announces at a press conference that 64.95 assistant district attorney positions will be added to various district attorney's offices throughout Wisconsin. From left: State Rep. Robyn Vining, D-Wauwatosa; The Women's Center Executive Director Angela Mancuso; Waukesha County Assistant District Attorney Mike Thurston; Evers.

challenges."

Thurston said the new positions will allow for district attorney's offices and law enforcement agencies across the state to more effectively address issues such as the opioid crisis, a spike in mental illness and the primary and secondary trauma of children.

'For prosecutors especially, we couldn't be more grateful for a fullyfunded pay progression and those 65 positions that will allow us to address chronic shortages, be more responsive to victims and law enforcement to help us make more judicious decisions," Thurston said. attorneys along with the DAA

In 2003, Waukesha County lost requested a total of 130 positions. three prosecutors and since then, the District Attorney's office hasn't recovered, Thurston said. for," Thurston said. "But we do hope Thurston, who is president of the Wisconsin District Attorneys Asso-

"It's a big day for criminal justice reform. Today the governor's office put the finishing touches on a criminal justice reform bill that is apolitical, that was widely supported by both parties and that addresses so many of our local challenges."

- Mike Thurston, Waukesha County assistant district attorney and Wisconsin District Attorneys Association

"This was a compromise to reach 65 which we are extremely grateful to reach levels that are adequate as far as staffing is concerned over the Construction on Elm Grove Heights, a 75-unit senior living facility, has begun.

Construction of senior living facility begins

Project expected to stimulate economic activity in Elm Grove

> By Ashley Haynes ahaynes@conleynet.com 262-513-2681

ELM GROVE — The first stages of construction on a new senior living facility in Elm Grove are now taking

The 75-unit independent living facility called Elm Grove Heights was first proposed last winter and will be for those age 62 and older.

Initial site preparation, including partial removal of vegetation and mobilization of the needed on-site equipment, as well as excavation of the building foundation and underground parking garage, began in late August.

In order to make Elm

Bluemound Road, needed to be rezoned from B-3 Mid-Rise Office and Professional District to the Rm-2 Multiple-Family Residential Dis-

According to the formal zoning request submitted to the village last December by Horizon Development Group, Inc., Elm Grove Heights will help stimulate the village's next economic cycle by keeping higher income seniors in the village and promoting turnover of existing homes. Horizon also said that senior housing will likely have a lower impact on Bluemound Road traffic when compared to other businesses allowed under the B-3 designation, such as a hotel. "Amending the Comprehensive Plan to accommodate Elm Grove Heights will help meet the housing demand for the Village's rapidly expanding senior population," wrote Horizon Managing Partner Philip Schulz in the request.

Elm Grove's Comprehensive Plan explains that as of Grove Heights a reality, the 2000, over 34% of residents parcel of land at 13040 W. will be over the age of 64.

JOIN US FOR A ROYAL AFFAIR!

7th Annual

Literary Luncheon: Queen Elizabeth II

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 2019 EARLY SEATING - 10:30AM · AFTERNOON SEATING - 2:30PM

Treat yourself to cocktails, shop a pop-up boutique from FAYE'S, enjoy a plated tea on our stage, and explore the life of Britain's famous monarch in a special performance featuring acclaimed historian Leslie Goddard, PhD! Proceeds support the mission of the Wilson Center to serve as a catalyst for lifelong discovery and exploration of the arts.

Co-Chairs

Presenting Sponsor

Carrie Matteson & Jean Elste

Faye Wetzel

SINGLE TICKETS: STARTING AT $85 TABLES OF 8: STARTING AT $650

Due to popular demand, we will be accepting reservations for two seating times!

wilson-center.com/literary-lunch • 262-373-5030

Comfort Keepers Care Services

WHY CHOOSE LIVE-IN CARE

If you are living alone and isolated, depressed, falling, need help with your shower or your doctor says you need care after surgery or rehab, Comfort Keepers® is there for you with Live-In 24 hour care services with "your own personal caregiver."

Caregivers are screened, bonded and insured and all taxes are paid. With only 2 or 3 caregivers in a week, you have that one on one personal attention 7 days a week. Your own personal caregiver.

Comfort Keepers® also provides Live-In care while working hand in hand with hospice nurses, assuring you and family members the dignity and respect during these stages of your life.

We all want to remain in our homes we love surrounded by our memories, memorabilia and possessions.

"WE ARE ELEVATING THE HUMAN SPIRIT"™

Comfort Keepers® believes that "care is a relationship", not a task and our goal is to find joy in every day. It's proven that our "Senior's, happiness comes from daily experiences with those around them.

"Socially engaged seniors have higher levels of physical, mental and cognitive functioning."

The smallest amount of exercise appears to help SENIORS LIVE LONGER and lowers the risk of disability.

In every Comfort Keeper® is a heart and compassion to care for others. It is the power to lift lives every day.

The Mellers' offices promise to treat you as one of our own family members.

INTERACTIVE CAREGIVING™

Is an holistic approach to caring for the mind, body, spirit and well being to all we serve!

- Companionship is our priority
- Private Duty Nursing
- Specializing in
- 24/7 LIVE IN CARE • In-home Hospice Care
- Bathing
- Incontinence Care
- Overseeing Medication
- Meals
- Laundry
- Light Housekeeping
- Transportation
- Hover Lift
- Transferring

Serving Milwaukee and Waukesha Counties

(414) 858-9400

8505 W. Forest Home Avenue

©2018 CK Franchising, Inc. An international network, where most offices independently owned and operated

Rolling out the Wahlburgers welcome mat

TOWN OF BROOKFIELD — Never underestimate the draw of celebrity or a good burger. After eight months of waiting, dozens of fans of Donnie and Mark Wahlberg lined up along a sidewalk at the The Corners of Brookfield on Tuesday for the grand opening of Wahlburgers, the gourmet burger chain created by the actors and former pop stars with their brother and chef,

There are 29 Wahlburgers locations in 19 states and Canada, but The Corners' location marks the first presence of the eatery in Wisconsin. A second Milwaukee-area location is slated to open at 322 N. Broadway in Milwaukee's Third Ward later this year.

On opening morning, Sept. 24, lines stretched from the restaurant, located at the corner of Market and Union streets inside the Corners development, to just before the Von Maur department store.

Natalee Halstead, 37, of Milwaukee, took a vacation day just to be there for the opening, showing up at 7:30 a.m. to ensure she had a good place in line when the restaurant opened at

A fan of the Wahlbergs, Halstead said she turned out to support the family and to check out the

"They are down to earth. I just appreciate the way they care about family, and take care of their mother even though they are celebrities," she said.

Hearing Halstead, another woman in the line, added, "And they're pretty hot!"

A rainy first day

end in the classroom, On Aug. 26, Brookfield Academy students and teachers returned to classes, but first had to navigate some wet weather.

as they walk into the building.

BROOKFIELD — A teacher's work doesn't begin and

Here, Brookfield Academy Teacher Rose Pankow helps student Yusuf Cheema avoid getting splashed

New draft master plan solidifies vision for downtown Elm Grove

By Ashley Haynes ahaynes@conleynet.com 262-513-2681

ELM GROVE — Village officials have reached the next phase of planning in re-envisioning the downtown area. A recently updated draft master plan for the village's downtown revitalization goals describes a future corridor complete with high-end retail options, locallyowned dining options and plenty of housing.

"We're all sort of confronted with the same thing, which is how do you address the ability to redevelop and do it in a way that still fits your commu-Village President Neil Palmer previously told The Freeman.

will help village officials address bringing in more restaurant and retail options, as well as housing. The fourth iteration of plans for the downtown Housing plan provides more specifics as to the exact type of establishments the village has in mind.

Businesses

There are several types of "targeted dining opportunities" the village is hoping to attract to the downtown area, according to the draft master plan.

The possibility of a family-friendly brewpub by the river is mentioned, as well as locally owned and operated cafes, small regional chains, and formal dining

The ideal retail opportunities include art galleries and gift shops, craft/hobby supply stores, home furnishing businesses, and health/specialty food stores storefronts and All restaurants would have to be at least 70% transparent glass.

According to the draft master plan, the target housing types the village will consider when being presented with proposals include multi-unit condo buildings, town homes, row houses, single-family homes, apartment and multi-use buildings with apartments on the upper

All building heights will be held to two floors, but there may be exceptions for a third-floor footprint along Elm Grove Road.

Multi-family residential housing would be placed along the northeast side of the downtown corridor, near the rerouted Elm Grove Road, to the north side of Watertown Plank Road.

Multi-use housing is listed as something to be considered along the north side of the downtown corridors and within the boundary of the current infrastructure to develop School Sisters of Notre the downtown corridor. Dame property, the village Improvements in the areas is aiming to have upscale of municipal water, sanitown homes, single-family residential homes and multi-family homes.

The School Sisters of Notre Dame are in the process of evaluating the organization in what they called a multiyear "integrated implementation plan to guide opinions, process," according to a approval and permitting press release.

Infrastructure

currently lacks the needed

tary sewer, parking/walkability and transportation infrastructure will be needed to support new pro-Moving forward, the village's Building Board will use the finalized master approval and permitting for development activities downtown.

Community members According to the draft will soon have their chance master plan, the village to provide any additional feedback.

OCTOBER 2019

Brookfield & Elm Grove

Established in 1859

How to reach us 801 N. Barstow St., P.O. Box 7,

Waukesha, WI 53187 262-542-2500

Hours: M-F 8 a.m.- 5 p.m.

If you have a news tip from the Brookfield/Elm Grove area, contact Katherine Michalets at 513-2644 or news@conleynet.com

To advertise in "Brookfield & Elm Grove This Month" call the advertising department at (262) 513-2624.

To subscribe to the daily Freeman call 542-2500

Freeman subscription rates

By in-county mail 13 weeks .$64.50

13 weeks.. 26 weeks..

EZ Buy$17.90 a month

Electronic edition$13.67 a month Out-of-county mail with credit card

Circulation Dept.To reach the Circulation Department call 542-2501 or go to www.gmtoday.com/wfhelp.

FREEMAN MANAGEMENT

Bill Yorth - Publisher & Editor-in-Chief 513-2671 byorth@conleynet.com Katherine Beck - Managing Editor......513-2644 kbeck@conleynet.com

Jim Baumgart - Freeman Group Ad Director..513-2621

jbaumgart@conleynet.com Tim Haffemann - Circulation Director..513-2640 thaffemann@conleynet.com Patricia Scheel - Prepress Manager...513-2690

nscheel@conleynet.com Joe Rocha - Mailroom Supervisor......513-2659 jrocha@conleynet.com

NEWS DEPARTMENT

Local News - Katherine Beck. news@conleynet.com Business - Katherine Beck. ..513-2644 kbeck@conleynet.com Sports - Pat Neumuth... ..513-2667 pneumuth@conleynet.com Death Notices - Shana Duffy. 513-2618 obits@conlevnet.com .262-542-8259

CLASSIFIEDS: 542-2211 Hours: M -F 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. PHOTO REPRINTS

Color reprints are $25 each. Call 542-2501

PAGE REPRINTS

Go to www.gmtoday.com/freemanreprints

The Freeman is printed on recycled newsprint.

Grace Landing of Brookfield, a proposed three-home, eight-bedroom community for adults with intellectual disabilities, could be coming to 16760 W. North Ave.

Residential facility proposed for North Avenue

Families pledge $2M toward costs of project

By Ashley Haynes ahaynes@conleynet.com 262-513-2681

BROOKFIELD — Two organizations are teaming up in the hope that they can bring a residential care facility for adults with intellectual disabilities to Brookfield and help address a growing need in that area.

Kelly Homes, LLC has submitted an application for a conditional use permit to the city for Grace Landing of Brookfield. The facility would include three eightbedroom homes for adults with intellectual disabilities at 16760 W. North Ave. "If approved, Grace Landing will be a tremendous asset to the community by underserved population home would have a deep aligned with Brookfield's porch that would then open 2035 Comprehensive Plan," reads the application. "Not space. only will it allow more families to remain in Brookfield, but it may attract others to the community, fulfilling a goal that 'the city will actively promote Brookfield as a family-friendly communineed for housing for those with intellectual disabilities is so great that 30 families have already registered an adult child to live at Grace Landing.

Each family has also made a financial pledge toward is granted. the capital costs of the project and to date, nearly $2 million in pledges have been made, according to the application to the city. Each home at Grace Landing would be in a ranch-style design and offer "first class amenities." Passenger vans 16 establishments in the would also be on site to state.

providing housing for an transport residents. Each onto a community green

The community space would help foster interactions between the residents and visiting fami-

According to the application submitted by Kelly Homes, LLC, for a condition-The application states the al use permit, the group has partnered with St. Coletta of Wisconsin — a nonprofit that has served those with intellectual disabilities in residential settings — and plans to donate the property to St. Coletta if city approval

> St. Coletta would then serve as both the owner and manager of Grace Landing.

> St. Coletta opened the first group home for individuals with intellectual disabilities in Wisconsin in 1943 and currently owns and operates

www.farmersmarketwaukesha.com

October 26th, 8 a.m. until noon, along the Fox River. Shop more than 150 Vendors for organic produce, artisan breads, flowers, honey, salsa, handmade goods and more.

Every Saturday, Now thru

Enjoy the creative scarecrows throughout downtown created by local businesses Oct 2nd-Nov 1st!

ART CRAWL www.waukeshaart.com

Saturday, October 5th & December 1st, 4-10 p.m. 20 Galleries~170 Artists~ Live Music~Great Food!

WAUK-TOBER

Wine and Beer Walk October 12th

TRICK OR TREAT

Downtown Trick-Or-Treat. Family event & kids of all ages. Saturday, October 26th. 1-3p.m.

www.waukeshasilverbells.com

Soon it will be Christmas in Downtown Waukesha. Check for full Holiday event schedule online soon and on Facebook.

Schools battle against student vaping

Local school districts combating epidemic by providing information to parents

By Ashley Haynes ahaynes@conleynet.com 262-513-2681

WAUKESHA — Local more than educating students in the traditional areas of study.

As the number of stuto epidemic numbers, online Drug Administration, sevschool districts are battling both misinformation trend.

District has decided to uti- looking for," Fredrich said. lize the public service announcement method.

"Last year, we saw a pretty sharp rise in the number of students who we were getting social media posts (from) of vaping happening or vaping that was happening on school property or kids who were in possession of the vaping materials," said Director of Student Services Tanya Fredrich. "As we talked with parents, they were really clear that they didn't for. It was kind of a foreign language for families.

Last month, Elmbrook released the first in a series of three vaping students and families on not only what vaping is and its potential dangers, but what signs to look for.

Fredrich explained the searching for a better way to reach families.

were telling their parents it was just flavored water of information or misinformation," Fredrich said.

opposite of everything stucartridges often smell good and taste sweet and come in a variety of youthful fla-

Fredrich added that most families associate vaping school districts are doing with only nicotine and are just now learning about THC cartridges that can be purchased.

The first PSA, "What is dents vaping has climbed Vaping?," is available now according to the Food and elmbrookschools.org/vaping with additional segeral Waukesha County ments coming in October and November. "Many parents said it and a lack of information gave them the opportunity regarding the modern to watch it with their kids and have a conversation, The Elmbrook School which is always what we're

Be The Majority

In the School District of Waukesha, a group of community organizations are trying to educate families where they'll already be gathered.

Recently, during the Waukesha West versus Waukesha North football game, a resource fair on vaping prevention was open to families.

Drug Free Communities of Waukesha County, Eleknow what to be looking vate Community Resource Center, Peers 4 Peers, and the School District of Waukesha all partnered to provide information.

"Because there's so many PSAs aimed at educating different kinds and manufacturers, nobody really what they're knows putting into their bodies and that's the biggest hurdle or obstacle in education district had tried emailing is that there's not enough information out, but was resources for educators to be able to say 'this is what it is' or 'this is what it does "There were kids that to you," said Jody Ebbinger-Bentley, school social worker at Waukesha and we were seeing a lack East Alternative High School.

In addition to She said vaping is the resource fair, there will also be free giveaways dents have grown up hear-throughout the evening, ing about tobacco - vaping posters, wristbands and rally towels.

The theme of the evening is #BeTheMajority to highlight the majority of students who aren't vaping, explained Ebbinger-Bent-

She added that there has already been some skepticism toward the trend from students who know someone who has gotten sick at from vaping or who have read the recent health reports.

"I think the word is starting to get out more," Ebbinger-Bentley said.

The district is also working on scheduling some parent information nights later in the year at the middle and high schools.

Vaping curriculum

The Oconomowoc Area School District is expanding its health curriculum to include a program called Vape Educate.

Students go online to learn about what vaping is, the related health and addiction risks, and how marketing has reportedly targeted today's youth. The curriculum consists of five chapters that includes tests after students finish each one. The tests measure student understanding of the concepts taught.

The program also monitors any changes in student knowledge around the risks associated with using vaping and nicotine prod-

Vape Educate is funded via an Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (AODA) that was awarded to OASD.

The district also teams up with Your Choice Prevention Education to educate students on current drug trends and vaping.

Two upcoming vaping forums are scheduled on Oct. 8 and Oct. 10.

For more information, visit the "Your Choice-Live Alcohol and Drug Awareness Program" Facebook page and search under 'Events."

Homecoming high fives

Brookfield Academy football players greet arriving Primary School students with a high-five line during Homecoming week festivities.

Tails wagging at Wagfest in Brookfield

BROOKFIELD — One-year-old Tootsie, left, Floyd Brown and Lulu, 10, watch dogs run the lure course at the Elmbrook Humane Society's Wagfest on Sept. 7.

St. Joseph's Medical Clinic Haunted Carnival set for Oct. 26

WAUKESHA - St. Joseph's Medical Clinic will hold haunted carnival on Oct. 26.

The fundraising event will Halloween costume contest.

Tickets will be $125 per ing and changing names to person or $1,000 for a table for 10.

St. Joseph's Medical Clinic include carnival games, a has been offering free medisilent auction and a live auc- cal care to residents of Pewaukee. To register go tion. There will also be a Waukesha County for 42 to years. The location is mov-

Waukesha Free Clinic at Carroll University.

The event will be held at the Marriott West hotel in hauntedcarnival.give

A Trusted Tradition since 1859

Ever wonder why your local newspaper is called "The Freeman?" We get that question a lot. And we are proud of the answer.

Martin Cullaton founded The Freeman with the support of abolitionists on March 29, 1859. Waukesha was an important stop on the underground railroad, which guided runaway slaves to freedom in Canada.

The Freeman was founded 160 years ago to provide a voice for the anti-slavery movement.

The Freeman's fighting spirit has continued during its 160 years. The Freeman was a strong advocate for women's right to vote. And the paper set a state precedent by winning a lawsuit that defined open records law in Wisconsin.

The Freeman continues to build on its legacy today as the community watchdog and your local news source.

To subscribe, call 262-542-2500 or go online at: gmtoday.com/subscribe through October 26th

OUR 29[™] SEASON!

Enjoy the Fall Harvest

Apples, Cider, Squash, Pumpkins, Mums, Bakery, Cheese, Beef, Pork, Chicken, Eggs, Mushrooms & In Season Vegetables

 Final Arts & Crafts of the Season October 19

• Free Frequent Shopper Rewards Program

 Gift Tokens & Market Totes for sale

WIC Approved

SNAP/Foodshare EBT

Credit & Debit Welcome!

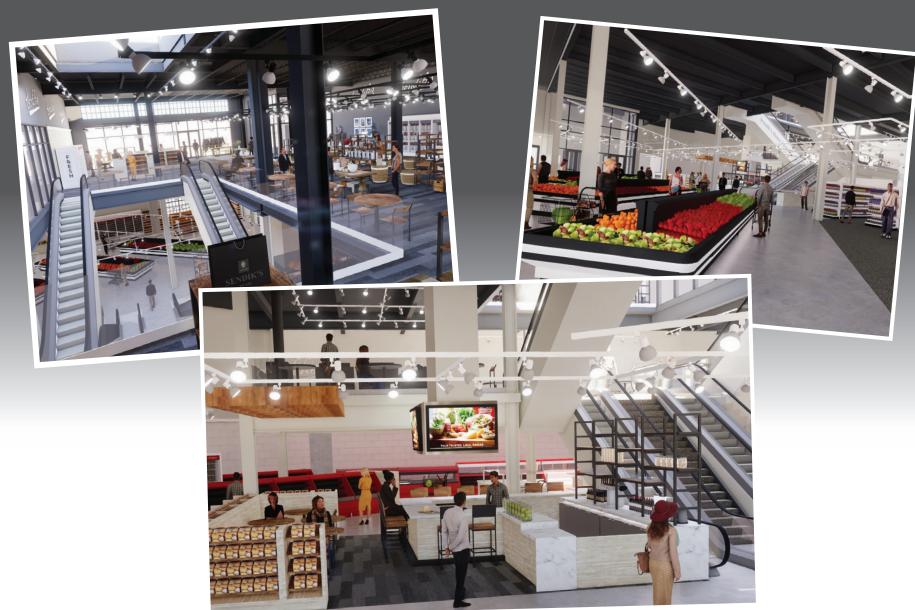

2000 N. Calhoun Road • 7:30am-Noon • 262-784-7804 info@brookfieldfarmersmarket.com • www.brookfieldfarmersmarket.com

The Corners of Brookfield GRANDREOPENING OCTOBER 16TH

Visit Sendik's at The Corners of Brookfield for a new, innovative shopping experience unlike anything you've seen before in southeastern Wisconsin! The remodeled store now provides a multi-level shopping destination with new services, expanded selections and greater convenience, plus all of the Sendik's favorites that guests have come to love.

TOP 10 REASONS

to visit the new Sendik's at the Corners of Brookfield -Opening October 16th!

A brand new, 7,000 square foot Sendik's Home addition that features an expanded clothing selection with a dressing room, a superb line of kitchen products (think Le Creuset and Staub), a variety of gourmet food, a full floral department and more. Perfect for your holiday shopping!

An extensive menu of fresh, cold pressed juices and homemade smoothies

Made-to-order, gourmet espresso drinks and nitro cold brew on tap

Tap craft beer and wine by the glass at The Corner Bar located in the store

Shareable small plates available to order at The Corner Bar

A grill station where you can choose from a menu of grilled favorites like burgers and sausages or have your freshly selected meats and seafood grilled for you!

Grilled-to-order paninis, sushi rolled daily, a fresh salad bar and a chef-prepared hot bar with a menu changing daily.

A mezzanine overlooking the store where you can grab a table to socialize or unwind

All the favorites that you've come to know and love about Sendik's: items made from scratch in the deli; bakery items baked fresh daily; signature, top-shelf meats; hand-selected produce; and an unwavering commitment to quality and service.

Judging antiques at a county fair

Last month I judged the antiques competition at the Walworth County Fair in Elkhorn. It was a twoday event with over believe it or not — 1,100 items and an extremely attentive crowd. The judging criteria included authenticity, condition, rarity, historical significance, comparison to a standard and scope of local, regional, national and/or global interest. County fair judges never assign a value.

A small army of dedicated fair volunteers cataloged and numbered each item; no personal information was revealed. The team expedited a proven check-in method and synchronized the process like a Henry Ford assembly

Today's column exhibits a small sample of division ribbon winners. It was a wonderful privilege to be immersed in rural history and to taste heavenly homemade lemon pie!

George Washington is always the winner

Silk souvenir bookmarks were products during the centennial celebration of America's Independence. Woven on Jacquard looms at the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition in 1876.

Sentimental keepsakes have been discovered folded away in sewing tables, baskets and drawers of great-grandmothers' iron seamstress (treadle sewing the upright clamp-jaws machine). A family member discovered this memorial ribbon in such a place sizes were used for preciand had it framed. Some sion stretching and stitchantiques give up their ing. The proud owner of secrets more readily than this others. Visual clues on silk are naturally occurring split edges, shredding and uneven color fading. The family history! interest in patriotic items continues to this day.

A pecking order

BARBARA EASH

Antiques Appraised

pitched, harsh crowing at the break of dawn was more reliable than clocks. Tin silhouettes tacked over the henhouse door were viewed as architectural novelties in rural communities. Many of these tin signs were made by a traveling tinsmith (tinnier) at a cost of 15 cents and supper. The yellow reflective paint on the arched feathers — a penny more. Most simple-cut rooster signs were eaten by rust then discarded, but today are favored by folk art collectors. Following the judging competition, the owners of this strutting rooster introduced themselves and gave permission to be featured. Steve and Darlene Pinnow are now fourthgeneration farmers at Wisconsin Lamb Farms. As a small boy when visiting his grandparents' farm, Steve pelted the 15-inch-by-15-inch sign with stones.

Stitching horse

In farm and city communities, highly skilled men would be sought out for the making and repair of leather goods, including harness and saddles. Workers would set facing that was controlled by a foot petal. Assorted vise antique attached the below family history to the bench. Good idea — write down your "Great, great grandpa Submit an item immigrated from Prussia in the 1830's. He settled in Waterford. Wisconsin for consideration

Do you have an item or Roosters became a sym- working as a harness collection of items that bol of service way before maker for 50 years. I sal- could be shared in a future the 20th century. High- vaged this from the old newspaper column? Let

To have your item or collection considered send the Antique Shop, ATTN Barwell as any history or item(s) are hearsay, length of owner- ered for a future column, we ence writing and speaking ship and your full name, will contact you. No photos about antiques.)

granary on the home- Barbara Eash hear about it! address and daytime phone can be returned and no purnumber. Mail: Waukesha chase of items will occur. following information: up to bara Eash, 1427 E. Racine, ber of the Certified Appraithree, sharp, well-lit photos Ave. Unit E-2, Waukesha, sers Guild of America, speof front & back of the WI 53186 or email: beap- cializing in appraisals of item(s), measurements as praisals@gmail.com. If your antiques and collectibles consid-

(Barbara Eash is a memand has extensive experi-

Unlimited possibilities.

Custom colors. Unique Shapes. Dynamic sizes. E-series windows and doors give you virtually unlimited ways to express your own style. Unleash your imagination and set your home apart. Only from Andersen.

Bliffert Lumber & Hardware 548 W. Sunset Drive, Waukesha, WI

"Andersen" and all other marks where denoted are trademarks of Andersen Corporation.
©2018 Andersen Corporation. All rights reserved.

We've Put The Team Back Together

FAMILY DENTAL

Providing Gentle Dentistry for your Entire Family!

Now Accepting New Patients!

18900 W Bluemound Rd, Ste 218 Brookfield, WI

(Located upstairs in the Galleria West Shopping Center)

262-754-2727 • BrightSmiles.net

Rita has recently been reunited with Dr. May as her assistant. After working together for 11 years, they are excited to welcome any previous patients to their new office!

No Insurance? No Worries! Annual Discount Dental Plan

Includes: Two Cleanings, Two Exams, X-Ray and More! In addition you will receive a 20% savings on ANY Dental Treatment for the entire year.

Photo courtesy of Greater Brookfield Chamber of Commerce

Orange Theory joins Brookfield chamber

BROOKFIELD — The Greater Brookfield Chamber of Commerce recently held a ribbon-cutting ceremony to welcome Orange Theory to its new location at Brookfield Square. Orange Theory offers a science-backed, technology-tracked, coach-inspired group workout with personalized results. Pictured from left to right are: front row, Stephanie Fong/Primerica and Brookfield chamber engagement partner; Jackson Buboltz/Elevated Insurance; Angela Genzel, Jana Zeman, Angela Krueger, and Jenna Schoemann, all of Orange Theory; Carol White/president Brookfield chamber; and Lori Choinski/Gerald Nell and Brookfield chamber board member.

County releases long-range $103M capital projects plan

Plan calls for new trail, courthouse upgrades, and Moorland Road improvements

By Darryl Enriquez Special to Conley Media denriquez@wi.rr.com

WAUKESHA Courtsecurity, house road improvements and a trail Pewaukee and Brookfield to downtown Milwaukee are included in a five-year capital projects plan released last month by Waukesha County Executive Paul Farrow to improve quality of life here and "set the county up for success, he wrote.

The projects plan "invests responsibly in infrastructure vital to public safety and economic development while leveraging partnerships and alternative funding sources to improve quality of life and maintain existing services at a low cost to taxpayers," Farrow wrote in a cover letter to the Waukesha County Board of Super-

The plan's gross expenditures over five years are about $103 million. With expected revenues of $20.3 million figured in, the net expenditure figure drops to $83.3 million, according to the capital budget summary.

Capital projects are mostly paid through borrowing and contributions from federal, state and local governments.

At the top of the list are courthouse projects to improve security and address aging and out-ofdate systems.

"Upgraded systems and streamlined operations are expected to offset some of the costs of the project in the long term," Farrow wrote.

Construction of a court tower has begun. The old intake court was demolished to make way for a new jail holding facility, and the old jail space will be demolished later in 2019 to make way for the new 62,000-square-foot, four-story, eight-courtroom building," he wrote. Con-struction is expected to be complete in 2021.

The new secure courtroom will be adjacent to the jail to improve security, prisoner up $16.5 million of the cost. transport and public access. Project cost is set at $38.5 million, according to the budget summary.

Renovation of the 1959 courthouse is expected to enhance business operations through efficient office layouts and improved public accesses, he wrote. Construction will take place from 2022 to 2026. Project cost is set at $58.6 million, according to the budget summary.

Transportation

The plan includes five projects to improve one of the busiest roads in the county, Moorland Road, a thoroughfare between Interstate 43 and Bluemound Road, which serves shopping centers, such as Brookfield Square mall, Farrow wrote.

Planned pavement. reconfiguring intersections to improve will offset most design and construction costs, according to the budget summary.

The intersection at Moorland and Beloit roads in New lion of the cost. Brookfield Berlin will be reconstructed to meet traffic volume according to the budget sumdemands. Construction is planned for 2020. Projected cost is almost $3.6 million. About $2.2 million if federal dollars will offset the cost, according to the budget sum-Moorland Road improvements between Interstate 94 and Bluemound Road in northeast Waukesha County, Brookfield are planned for 2022. Project cost is $8 million, and about $6.4 million through increased rentals in federal money will offset and park sticker sales," Farthe cost, according to the budget summary.

Another major plan is widening from two to four of North Avenue between 124th Street and Calhoun Road. Construction begins in 2020. Project cost is $27.5 million. Federal funding and costs, according to the budlocal contributions will pick

Parks

The project plan contains a Pewaukee to Brookfield Trail, "which would create local economic benefits by connecting residents in several densely populated areas with business and employcenters,"

It's a 3.5-mile trail from a proposed trail access on North Avenue, south of Watertown Road, in the City of Pewaukee to a proposed trailhead near River and Brookfield roads in Brook-Construction planned for 2021. Much of the cost will be paid through federal funding and contributions from Brookfield.

"The trail connects to 26 miles of established on- and improvements off-road trails in the City of include replacing existing Brookfield, as well as connecting with trails and parkways throughout Milwaukee safety, replacing older traffic County, including the State signals and adding side- of Wisconsin Hank Aaron walks and stormwater Trail and Milwaukee County improvements. Federal funds Oak Leaf Trail," Farrow

Project costs are set at $2.5 million. Federal and state dollars will pick up $2 milwill contribute $254,000,

Plans call for the new trail to ultimately connect with Frame Park in Waukesha.

A Menomonee Park Dog Exercise Area in partnerships with the villages of Sussex and Menomonee Falls is planned to serve 'The plan is anticipated to generate new park revenues row wrote. The project will be completed in 2020.

Project costs are set at $500,000. Menomonee Falls lanes the three-mile stretch and Sussex are each expected to contribute $125,000 toward the cost and reserve fund for park improvements will pay for the rest of the raSmith adds staff to Construction Services Division

BROOKFIELD — Seth ty of Toledo. Keller and Liam Cimaglia have joined raSmith as civil engineers, and Hannah Muckerheide and Matt Henry have joined raSmith as construction representatives. The new staff members will each support the construction services division and provide services to the firm's municipal clients.

Keller has three years of experience providing construction documentation, inspection and site survey in roadway reconstruction projects. His additional responsibilities have included drainage system installation, grading and project coordination. Keller holds a bachelor's degree in civil engineering from the Universific analysis, data collection and intersection design for local municipalities such as West Allis. Cimaglia's expeconstruction services expepaving projects. She has ty of South Carolina.

Muckerheide

additional experience lead-Cimaglia recently earned ing crews in the successful bachecompletion of projects for both public and private has ence in traf-

four years of

Waukesha. Henry has over four vears experience in construction observation and materials testing for rience also the Wisconsin Department includes of Transportation as well design ser- as municipal, corporate vices for the and residential projects. reconstruc- His services in the field tion of Drex- include the removal and replacement of existing soil subgrades, curb and gutter, storm and sanitary sewer, and as-built redlining. Henry holds a bachelor's degree in civil engirience in roadway and neering from the Universi-

The LAK Group names Milsted and Grubich as presidents

BROOKFIELD — The currently an adult leader help them move their LAK Group (formerly Allen Lawrence, and Kolbe), a leading management consulting firm. announced that Mike Milsted and Michael Grubich have been named presidents and partners, and have assumed ownership of the organization.

According to announcement, Milsted has a strong desire to help people find meaningful involvement in what they do, because aligning people and business is his passion. He works as a business adviser and creates solutions to align clients' talent and business strategies.

Milsted holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

He began his career and committee member businesses Foundation and has devel- objectives. oped a professional

career dedicated helping people to reach their potential. Outside of work, Milsted enjoys spending time with his family.

Grubich brings more than 25 years of global leadership experience that enhances the performance of the organizations, individuals, teams and leaders he serves to the announcement.

with the Boy Scouts of through an integrated America and volunteers approach of aligning talwith the National Kidney ent, culture and business Grubich

Illinois University and earned his Master Business Administration from Lake Forest Gradu-

Outside of work, he serves as secretary for the board of directors for Special Olympics in Wisconsin and is the board chair Catholic Memorial his new role, according to High School in Waukesha. He is also an adjunct fac-He provides consulta- ulty member at Marquette working as a social worker tion and coaching to University's College of at a women's shelter, is senior leaders in order to Business Administration.

12 WEEKS FOR

ate School of Business.

The FREEMAN

A Trusted Tradition since 1859

Local softball standouts blazed trail on ESPN

Wagner, Graser played in network's first live telecast

By Mark Hutchinson mhutchinson@conleynet.com 262-513-2693

WAUKESHA - Greg Wagner and Dennis Graser were prominent diggers in a ground-breaking event 40 vears ago.

That historic feat was just commemorated on a worldwide forum.

The two Waukesha County men occupied the top two spots in the batting order of the Milwaukee Schlitz professional softball team, which hosted the Kentucky Bourbons in the very first live sporting event telecast by the fledgling Entertainment and Sports Programming Network, aka ESPN, on Sept. 7,

The premiere wasn't a smash hit for the Milwaukee team, which dropped the opening game of the American Professional Slow-Pitch League's World Series 15-5 before a partisan audience at Lannon's Joecks Field.

But Schlitz discovered its gusto to win the second game of the evening doubleheader 12-2, then split another twin bill the next night to even the best-of-nine series at 2-2 and send it to Kentucky the following weekend.

Louisville became the most hostile environment Milwaukee's pro softballers experienced during the sport's sixyear run. But they brought their brooms with them on this road trip and swept two doubleheaders in unfriendly confines to capture their first of three World Series championships.

After Milwaukee won the 1982 United Professional Slow-pitch League World Series, pro softball became a thing of the past, referenced only occasionally by ESPN anchors for its place in the network's programming his-

Recently, though, another ESPN trailer traveled to Lannon, where members of the Schlitz team, its ownership and administration gathered to reminisce and film a retrospective. The E:60 segment debuted on the network Sept. 10, featuring the stories told from both the Wisconsin and Kentucky perspectives.

There was no way any of the combatants in that 1979 APSPL World Series could have fathomed what a massive network ESPN would become ... or that they would be recognized 40 years later for launching it.

"I remember seeing that ESPN trailer parked behind the bleachers at Lannon and thinking, 'What the heck is that?" Wagner said. "Whenever the anniversary of our game came up -10 years, 20years — ESPN always mentioned it. They never had any footage or did anything more until now."

That is because only a few people knew what became of the game footage until just recently. John Korinek, who founded and owned the Milwaukee franchise, had it.

'What happened right after the World Series ended is John approached ESPN and said, 'I'd like to buy all of the film," Graser said. "ESPN, being the fledgling company that it was at the time nobody knew what it was going to grow into — said,

"So John bought the tapes for $750 right after the World Series ended. He had them under wraps, and nobody knew that."

There was justice in the fact that the historic tapes wound up in Korinek's possession, because he was the visionary who elevated Milwaukee's rich softball tradition from amateur to professional sta-

Korinek played on and managed the Cooper Hearth team in Milwaukee's Big Eight Classic League, which became renowned as one of the premier amateur softball hotbeds in the country. Korinek built the foundation of Milwaukee's flagship pro softball team with Big Eight players, and it was known as Copper Hearth for one season before the Schlitz Brewing Company took over sponsor-

Big Eight products such as Phil Higgins, Paul Wenzel, Derek Gallagher and Kenny Parker and others gave Milwaukee instant credibility in the new pro league because of the success they enjoyed on the national amateur circuit.

Milwaukee didn't become a championship-caliber pro team until the league transitioned from being a home-run derby contested on 300-foot fences into more spacious ballparks with 70-foot hitting, speed and defense became paramount.

Greg Wagner, left, and Dennis Graser reunite at Waukesha's Saratoga Complex this summer prior to ESPN's E:60 special marking the 40th anniversary of their appearance in the network's first live sportscast. Wagner and Graser helped the Milwaukee Schlitz professional softball team win three World Series titles.

By the time Schlitz relocated from Milwaukee's Wilson Stadium to Lannon Field in 1979, the makeup of the team's nucleus had changed to include two interlopers from Waukesha County.

In 1972, Wagner and Graser graduated from high school — Wagner from Waukesha and Graser from New Berlin with aspirations of playing professional baseball. Their pursuits of those aspirations took them to the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire and UW-Stout, respectively, and both excelled during the summer months on the local amateur circuit

Both players had reached crossroads in their careers, and they elected to follow the same avenue.

"I was released in the middle of August and went back to school." Graser said. "My freshman coach at Stout had a who was Korinek's secretary. were just getting this pro softball league organized and were going to have tryouts.

"He said, 'Dennis, why don't you go and try out?

"I said, 'Why would I? I don't play softball.' I think I had played in four or five beer games in college, but that was baseball career reached the finish line. A Waukesha resident for 59 years of his life he was aware of the slow-pitch game's rich tradition at Saratoga Complex, and he experienced it while still in his teens.

"I started playing at Saratoga right out of high school," Wagner said. "We were Wagner said. Dean's Barbers in our first year, then Pete's Place in our second. Our Pete's Place team played in what they called the major league on Mondays and Thursdays.

"Then we were sponsored by Billy D's and won the city title in 1976. We had a good young team.'

Wagner didn't delve fully into softball until later.

When I started playing, I did not want to take any batting practice," he said. "Baseball was still my focus since I was playing for Waukesha in the Land O' Lakes League. I did not want to ruin my baseball swing.

"I had a mechanism to wait long enough for the pitch. A lot of hardball players can't make that adjustment. It seems like it would be a logical transition, but it's not."

Wagner mastered the transition and soon followed in Graser's footsteps to a Schlitz tryout.

." "I went to a tryout they had Wagner began playing comin '78," Wagner said. "They basepaths where directional petitive softball before his had a lot of guys there hitting different guys."

play with Copper Hearth's Wednesday night team to start the 1978 season in what used to be known as the Big "I started out playing there. In the middle of June, they and fielding. They kept two brought me up to play for Schlitz.

"Going to Lannon to play was huge for our team," Wagner said. "We had some guys with power, but we had speed and great defense. Our infield was superb. We turned a lot of double plays and took teams out of a lot of innings.'

"They moved the bases from 60 to 70 feet, which made defense more important. The left-field fence at Lannon Field was 328 feet, and it went out from there. It had to be 360 in center — a good poke.

"Once we moved out of the smaller parks — the other cities did the same type of thing — that was a big key for us. We had every facet of the game covered. We had guys hit line drives and hit the ball into gaps as well as over the Milwaukee won the APSPL's Mid Western Division by a half-game over Detroit, then swept past Cleveland and Detroit in the playoffs to earn its first World Series berth. Kentucky lost only one game on its side of the bracket, setting up a championship showdown between rivals.

'The rivalry was built up from years of amateur ball, Graser said. "A lot of the Kentucky players played for a team called Jiffy Club, so they knew all of our guys who had played for Copper Hearth. There was a lot of competitiveness there.

"You didn't have to get yourself worked up to play in those games. You were always worked up and excited to get out there and beat them, and they felt the same way about playing us. That rivalry was strong.

As intense as the teams' rivalry was, they didn't simply collide and slug it out.

We were hoping to win three out of four here, because it was hard to go down to Kentucky and win," Wagner said. "When we reached that level, we talked about what we wanted to do strategy-wise against every player. It was almost like the shifting they're doing now in baseball.

"We strategized how to play

Schlitz had to change its or three of us and had us plan after losing Game 1 of the Series.

"In the first game, Kentucky just wore out the middle against Rick," Graser said.
"They had base hit after base hit after base hit. Between games, some of our veterans went up to (manager) Mike Basile and said, 'Hey, we've got to stop this.'

'So we went to a five-man infield, and that was a huge difference in the second game and for the rest of the series. We hadn't played much fiveman up to that point. We tried to take them out of their comfort zone. They might still beat us going another way, but we had to make them try.

The impact of the strategic shift was immediate and eventually decisive.

Milwaukee won two of the next three games at Lannon, then took three of four in front of hostile crowds in Louisville to bring home the championship.

"Kentucky always had big with power and we could also crowds," Graser said. "There was a building out beyond the outfield fence and people would sit on top of it and watch the games.

"There was one time where we needed a police escort to get out of there. After we won the Series, we had a pretty good party that night.

Milwaukee's championship conquest, though, was a team effort. Doug Czaplewski batted .571, James Dillard hit .500 with six homers and 13 RBIs, Graser drove in 11 runs, Wenzel knocked in 10, and Higgins launched a pivotal grand slam during Game 7 and totaled nine RBIs.

Graser and Wagner helped Milwaukee win the North American Softball League championship in 1980 and the United Professional Slow-Pitch League title in 1982, giving them a combined six World Series rings.

Graser, who went on to win multiple national amateur softball titles with such teams as Steele's Sports, Elite Coatings and Ritch's Superior in the ensuing years, discovered during the filming of the ESPN E:60 special that he had another claim to fame.

'When I did my interview, the interviewer said, 'Did you know that you hit the first home run on ESPN? You hit one out foul and complained about the call, but then you hit one out in the seventh inning of the first game. What do you think about that?'

"I said, 'I never knew. That's pretty cool."

Brookfield Central-Kettle Moraine playoff was a beauty

Lasers barely beat Lancers on third extra hole

In my 49 years of doing this job, I've covered a lot of outstanding events. I've seen a pinch-hit, walk-off grand slam home run in a WIAA sectional; game-winning halfcourt shots and a last-second field goal to win a football state championship.

And there have been more of the same kind of highlights over the years for every school that I've covered.

But Sept. 19, the bar was set once again very high. Was it the best thing I've ever seen? Maybe, but I'm not sure. But the excitement that the girls golf teams from No. 2 -ranked Brookfield Central and No. 3ranked Kettle Moraine put on during their pressure-packed three-hole playoff was some of the best high school drama I've seen in a quite a while. And with out a doubt it was girls high school sports at its very best. Taking part in the always popular Waukesha County Girls Golf Championships at Wanaki Golf Course, the two state powerhouses battled through 18 holes of regulation play tied at 311, dominating the rest of the competition. And even after the first highest-scoring player on each team, they were still deadlocked.

CHUCK DELSMAN

And that's when things got interesting, as all five players from both teams headed for the 10th tee with a large crowd of other players, coaches, fans and parents looking on, adding a little more pressure to the already anxious sudden-death playoff scene.

Playing the par-4, 307-yard 10th hole, both teams were solid as the two tied with a four-player total of 1-over-par 17. That forced a second play-11th hole. Once again, the same result, another tie as each team recorded four pars. While Central appeared to rate the edge when everyone was on the green, KM got back into picture when Isabelle Gaudion drained a downhill 20-foot putt to send the playoff to a third hole.

After a brief meeting of the coaches and players at the par-3, 146-yard 12th hole and severe darkness setting in, it was decided that this was going to be the final hole. Another tie would mean the ever in the state. two teams would be crowned co-champions.

Five of the 10 players found the sloping green with their year. Besides Krutz, Rosentee shots. Four others were crantz and Romero, the title sand traps or in the first cut of and Whipper. Romero was rough next to the green. One outstanding in the playoff, player, Kyler Whipper of BC, was in trouble, in the trees plenty short and right of the

Well, as things played out, Central won the hole and the playoff, winning by a score of 13-14. Sami Krutz, the medalist for the day with a round of 2-over-par 73, parred the hole for Central, as did teammates Erin Rosencrantz and CJ Romero. But KM did not go down without a fight, getting pars from Julia Schilling and

Jenna Anderson. But while the par-shooters came up big for the Lancers, it was the play of Whipper that probably won it for BC. In trouble in the trees, Whipper chipped her ball low between a group of trees and branches off hole at the par-4, 284-yard and the ball scooted across the green to the back fringe. From there she got down in two shots, giving her a four, good enough for the bogey and giving her team the one-shot vic-

> As darkness set quickly as everyone was returning to the clubhouse for the awards ceremony, a special day had just been completed. Seven hours of golf, finishing with an epic team playoff, believed to be the longest in Waukesha County history and one of the longest and most competitive

> The record says Central won the county championship for the second straight outstanding in the playoff, recording three pars.

Kettle Moraine also performed well under the pressure-packed conditions. They got three pars from Schilling and solid play from Anderson, Madeline Fiebig, Regan Stuke and Gaudion. The Lasers might have lost but did themselves proud as well.

Here's what I liked. Despite all of the pressure and the big crowd watching, all 10 of the girls played well, never cracking. There were only a few missed shots and each time those players rallied back to make par or bogey. The golf and the sportsmanship was brilliant. It was an outstanding scene.

While the scorecard showed Central winning the championship, there were no losers girls played, there was only

Kenny Yoo/Special to Conley Media

that day. The way those 10 Brookfield Central's Sami Krutz looks down range on hole 11 during the Waukesha County Girls Golf Championships at Wanaki Golf Course.

> Work With Experienced Design Professionals

1005 Richards Road, Hartland | 262.367.9439

www.kitchencreators.com

